

I am concerned that the Sinclair Broadcast Group is failing to provide non-partisan use of public airwaves by broadcasting 'Stolen Honor: Wounds That Never Heal'. If the program were balanced by a documentary of an opposing viewpoint, such as 'Going Upriver', I would not file this statement. But the Sinclair's Group is showing 'Stolen Honor' on its networks without any attempt to balance the piece. At best, this is a disservice to the political discourse that is a key aspect of our free democracy. At worst, it is a blatant attempt at direct electioneering, and thus, in violation of federal election law. I ask that the FCC investigate this matter. My thanks for your time and consideration.
